

GOOD ROADS TO BLUE RIDGE SUMMIT.

TRIP TO MOUNTAINS
OVER GOOD ROADS

Tour to Blue Ridge Summit.
Pa., Available for Sunday
Autoist.

Combining both good roads and beautiful scenery, an enjoyable Sunday trip can be taken by the local motorist to Blue Ridge Summit in Pennsylvania. This excursion not only permits the motorist to spend an hour or two at this delightful summer resort, frequented by Baltimore, Washington, Norfolk and Philadelphia residents, but gives him an opportunity to take in the wonderful view of the mountains from Buena Vista, and also time for a short stop at Pen Mar, the "Coney Island" of the Pennsylvania-Maryland border.

In this way diversified pleasures are the lot of the tourist. He can take along a lunch and have a picnic on the side of the mountains. He can get a wholesome dinner in any one of the numerous hotels in the locality. Or if he wishes other amusement he can make Pen Mar his headquarters, taking in its various attractions and having his picnic or lunch on the grounds.

The complete trip, with all these points included, will approximate 200 miles, so start early in the morning and make a day of it. There are two ways of going and coming, and while the shortest way is undoubtedly the best, there are some who would rather travel over different roads as much as possible.

The route by way of Rockville, Ridgeville, Frederick and Thurmont is the shortest and will total about seventy-six miles. Going by way of Frederick to Hagerstown to Waynesboro to Buena Vista and then to Blue Ridge Summit will be about twenty miles farther.

In making the round trip it is best to go the long way in order to take in both Buena Vista and Pen Mar, as they will both be encountered on the way to Blue Ridge, although a short side trip is necessary to visit Pen Mar.

Detailed Itinerary.
A detailed itinerary of the trip both ways follows:
Short way—Rockville, either by way of Wisconsin Avenue or Silver Spring, Wheaton and Norbeck, Gaithersburg, Damascus, Ridgeville, left turn onto Frederick road; Frederick, turn right at traffic officer, continue straight out to Thurmont, through latter place coming onto dirt road at end of town. Continue on this road over several bridges to Blue Ridge Summit.
Long way—Frederick by same route. Straight through to Middletown, Boonsboro and Hagerstown; turn right on first street with car tracks, follow tracks to two blocks beyond town square and turn right. Follow road through to Waynesboro; turn right on coming onto main street and continue out. From this point on you cannot lose your way. Follow the road through several small towns and wind up the mountain to Buena Vista. You will be able to see Buena Vista Hotel long before you reach it.
The Pen Mar trip from Buena Vista is as follows: Follow road running along the side of the hotel, bearing to the right at fork about a quarter of a mile beyond. This road will take you directly to the Maryland and Pennsylvania resort.

that the speed limit at the point where he was arrested was ten miles an hour, he will realize that he unwittingly convicted himself.

PEERLESS

Fine as Peerless motor cars have been in the past, it is an indisputable fact that they are finer and better today than they have ever been. If you are contemplating the purchase of a high-grade automobile, we suggest, in the interest of economy, that you investigate the value of the 1922 Series Peerless, as evidenced in its smoothness, power and dependability.

ter of fact, a lot of these chaps would understand a lot more about the purpose of the differential if they'd jack up a hind wheel, start the motor, put the gears in low and discover that when one wheel is held still the power is all applied to the free one.

"And listen to that fellow's chattering clutch. Hang it, if I felt like working 'em all day Sunday I could make a mint of money giving hypodermics to these ailing cars. 'Steard of that I just sit here under the spreading gasoline pump wasting good advice talking to myself. But chattering plate clutches certainly do make me want to tell the driver that the whole business was caused by 'slipping' the clutch in traffic or on a hill. A chattering clutch is not in' more nor less than clutch plates warped by heat—or friction, as the high-class mechanics in the city call it. When warped plates come together the high spots are sure to meet first, causing grabbing and slipping before the plates fully press together. That sets up a chattering noise and a bad vibration. Trying to avoid using second gear is the real cause of it. But, oh well, if they didn't do fool things like that I suppose I'd still be the village blacksmith."

"It's motorists like that fellow with the steaming radiator who give us the real jobs. He imagines that a bad leak in the radiator core is the worst that can happen, but he forgets about the motor which is being made to operate at more than its maximum running temperature. Tomorrow he'll be wondering why his valves stick.

why they don't seat properly, why compression is low and why a bearing pounds. Hell, know, after some mechanic presents him with a fancy bill, that driving an overheated engine means warping valves and burning up lubricating oil. It just goes to show that ignorance is bliss—for the repair man."

Pointers on Parking.

Leave ample room between the front of your car and the machine ahead when parking, for the man who parks behind you will invariably run his car as close as possible to yours.

If the car is left in a precarious position, better use the parking lights even if the local ordinance doesn't require you to do so. If someone ran into your car they wouldn't look you up to tell you the sad news. And if you didn't happen to have collision insurance you would be out of luck.

"When you see a parking space ahead hurry along to it. If you take your time someone will slip into the space while you are preparing to back up. American drivers work fast. The early bird catches the space, to paraphrase a bit of Greek philosophy."

Did You Know—

That because gasoline evaporates and loses its "pep" while standing a car that is stored for any length of time is quite likely not to start unless encouraged with some fresh fuel? That if the radiator is filled too full a pint or more of water will syphon out through the overflow pipe after the engine has warmed up? That your oil pressure gauge merely indicates the amount of back pressure and that a radical increase in the gauge's reading after the engine has warmed up indicates stoppage in the oil leads? A gauge, however, will necessarily read high when the oil is cold. Failure of the gauge to read indicates pump trouble.

It's a wise man who doesn't let his wife know what it costs him to run his car.
